2015 WOMEN'S TENNIS

NEBRASKA
SOCCER AND TENNIS COMPLEX

A new era in Nebraska women's tennis is about to begin. With construction nearly complete on the $20.4 million Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex, the Huskers are about to reap the benefits of a spectacular new home unlike anything the program has ever known.

When the new complex opens this spring, it will feature six indoor courts and 12 lighted outdoor courts. For the first time in program history, Nebraska will have indoor and outdoor courts dedicated solely for its own use. The Huskers will also enjoy an on-campus indoor facility for the first time. Having dedicated indoor and outdoor courts located in the same complex will allow the Huskers to seamlessly transition between indoor and outdoor play, increasing the efficiency and convenience for Nebraska's student-athletes.

The Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex, located on Nebraska's Innovation Campus, is a 28-acre facility that will also feature ample parking for student-athletes, coaches and fans, along with combined seating for more than 1,000 tennis fans. The complex also includes a 2,500-seast soccer stadium.

Mary Hanna broke into the Husker lineup her inaugural campaign as a Husker. She will fight in 2015 to continue her success and improve in both singles and doubles.

More Experienced Huskers Seek More Success in 2015

After losing four seniors, including two first-team All-Americans from the most successful Nebraska women's tennis team in history in 2012-13, a young 2013-14 Husker squad that included six freshmen struggled to find wins in a loaded Big Ten Conference.

The young group battled through the season, finishing with an 8-17 overall record while discovering the challenges of NCAA Division I tennis.

Now a more experienced and healthier group of Huskers looks for greater success in the spring of 2015.

Although the 2015 Huskers will be more experienced than a year ago, Nebraska will still feature just one senior, Izabella Zgierska. The native of Miesbach, Germany will provide leadership on and off the court for the Huskers in 2015. Zgierska enters her senior year with a 66-68 combined career record for Nebraska. She boasts an impressive off-court resume, including Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2013 and 2014, as well as earning a spot on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll. With the help of Zgierska, the Nebraska women's tennis team earned its fourth straight Herman Award in 2014 for the highest team grade-point average across all Nebraska women's sports.

"Izabella made a big jump last year," Nebraska Coach Scott Jacobson said. "We asked a lot more of her. She went from playing the No. 6 spot for our program to No. 2. Her game elevated, and she embraced the challenge. She really played the best tennis of her college career last year. Her work ethic is exemplary. When you have a young team with a bunch of freshmen and sophomores, with the exception of Maggy (Lehmicke) and Lauren (Wagner), to have that kind of leadership from your senior makes a big difference, with respect to work ethic."

Nebraska also will look to juniors Maggy Lehmicke and Lauren Wagner for leadership. As two of the three upperclassmen, Lehmicke and Wagner will add valuable experience to the young Husker crew.

Lehmicke earned the position of team captain as she continues her successes on and off the court. The native of Kirkland, Wash., enters her third season as a Husker with an impressive 71-51 combined record, playing at the No. 1 singles spot as a sophomore. Lehmicke also serves as a leader in the classroom and community. She was a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and earned Academic All-Big Ten honors while claiming the prestigious Nebraska Student-Athlete HERO Leadership Award a year ago. She earned spots on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in both semesters of her freshman and sophomore years and captured a spot on the inaugural Tom Osborne Citizenship Team in 2014.

"Maggy went from a freshman playing the No. 4 and 5 spot to our No. 1 and made a big jump," Jacobson said. "She is one whose game continues to grow. The other thing about Maggy that is really important is her leadership with respect to how she engages the team. She is all about others. That's what you need in a team captain; someone who has a great work ethic but also selfless in nature. She is the real deal."

Wagner saw limited action in her first two years with Nebraska but looks to build off a successful fall campaign in 2014. The junior from Roslyn Heights, N.Y., earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2014 as well as spots on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in the fall of 2012. Wagner helped the team earn its fourth consecutive Herman Award, as she received a Nebraska Honors Medallion for having a GPA between 3.0-3.49.

"Throughout the fall she probably played her highest level doubles she's ever played in her college career, with Kati Matysova," Jacobson said. "She made a jump. After her sophomore year, she went back home and worked on her game all summer. She continues to improve and get better."

Nebraska features two sophomores in Lisa Andersson and Mary Hanna. The two will lean on the experience they gained in their inaugural seasons to drive the Huskers to success in 2015. Consistently playing singles in the middle of the lineup for NU, Andersson accumulated a 13-36 combined record, while Hanna rounded out her first season as a Husker with a 24-34 record.

"Both of them probably learned that playing college tennis is never easy," Jacobson said. "Every time you step on the court you are challenged. Those two learned to embrace competition. That's the thing they are learning and will continue to get better at. You have to love the battle. I think they are both very gifted sophomores. The thing they both need to focus on is the mental aspect of the game and get stronger mentally. Approach every point with positive energy."

Two Huskers, Spurti Shivalingaiah and Katerina Matysova, are coming off redshirt seasons and look to make immediate impacts in both singles and doubles in 2015.

Shivalingaiah redshirted her freshman season with an injury after joining the Huskers prior to the start of the spring semester. The native of Bangalore, India, got off to a strong start in the classroom as a member of the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in the spring of 2014.

"Spurti is incredibly gifted," Jacobson said. "She was one of the top 250 juniors in the world when she came here. We are glad to have her for another four years. She is probably the cleanest ball striker on our team. She strikes the ball in the center of the racquet every single time. Now it's just a matter of getting her physical condition back and then getting used to competitive play."

Matysova, a native of Erding, Germany, played some matches in the fall of her freshman season earning a 2-4 singles record and 1-4 doubles mark before having her season end with a knee injury. She earned a spot on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in the fall of 2013 and spring of 2014 while her efforts helped the team earn the Herman Award.

"Kati is striking the ball as well as she ever has and she has made a big jump mentally," Jacobson said. "Her mindset is unbelievable. We kid her a little bit about how this ACL tear was the best thing that ever happened to her because she realized how much she loves the game and maybe before she took it for granted. Her mental approach is tremendous."

Nebraska will add one new face, Mackenna Maddox, to the 2015 team. The McKinney, Texas native joins the Huskers after spending two seasons at Brigham Young University, where she accumulated a 21-20 singles record and a 20-19 doubles mark. Maddox earned a spot on the West Coast Conference Honor Roll both her freshman and sophomore year at BYU and will look to continue her success as a Husker.

"Mackenna has been an incredible addition to our program," Jacobson said. "She has a tremendous work ethic and a positive attitude. She has very good hands around the net and tremendous doubles instincts. In addition, Mackenna is a great competitor and always plays with passion. We believe she has the opportunity to help our program in a big way this coming spring."

The Huskers have 24 regular-season matches, with 17 scheduled at home. Five of the 11 conference matches will be at home, while they will travel to Michigan State, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Northwestern. The Huskers will kick off the 2015 season at home against Air Force on Jan. 24 at 10 a.m.

Entering his 24th season as Nebraska women's tennis head coach, Scott Jacobson has had his Huskers consistently ranked among the top 75 teams nationally for nearly 20 years, while making regular NCAA Tournament appearances the past decade.

A three-time conference coach of the year, Jacobson has guided the Husker program to six NCAA Tournament bids in the past 10 seasons. He also led the Big Red to the Big Ten Conference regular-season title in 2013.

From 2010 to 2013, Jacobson's Huskers produced the most successful stretch in school history, winning 20 or more matches for four straight seasons to advance to four consecutive NCAA tournaments. The Huskers finished No. 16 in the final ITA rankings in both 2012 and 2013, including the program's first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in 2013.

While the Huskers produced a golden age in the program from 2010 to 2013, Coach Jacobson's program has been defined by consistent success. In fact, Nebraska produced 17 consecutive winning seasons from 1997 through 2013, with the Huskers producing top-75 final national rankings 15 times.

Although Nebraska's string of winning campaigns came to an end with an 8-17 overall record in 2014, Jacobson is confident the foundation for more future success is firmly in place. Jacobson, who owns 341 victories at the helm of the Huskers, has averaged nearly 15 wins per season at NU, while laying the foundation for the Nebraska program brick by brick since his first season in 1991-92.

Success at Nebraska goes far beyond winning, Jacobson emphasizes excellence on the court, in the classroom and in the community.

A shining example of the total-person concept of Nebraska women's tennis is Mary Weatherholt. The greatest player in the history of the program, Weatherholt capped her record-setting career as a first-team All-American in both singles and doubles. She was the NCAA runner-up in singles in 2013, while teaming with fellow first-team All-American Patricia Veresova to advance to the NCAA Elite Eight in doubles action in 2013.

Off the court, Weatherholt claimed one of the NCAA's top overall honors as a winner of an NCAA Top Ten Award in 2014. She was the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year in both 2012 and 2013, and she was Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year in 2012-13. Weatherholt added a Big Ten Sportsmanship Award, while claiming the ITA Cissie Leary Sportsmanship Award, which is presented to the nation's top women's tennis student-athlete.

During his career at Nebraska, Jacobson's Huskers have earned numerous academic all-conference accolades. Jacobson also guided the athletic career of two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American Imke Reimers. The women's tennis team has also earned the Herman Award four years straight from 2011 to 2014. The award is presented to the NU team with the top overall grade-point average.

In 2013, NU had its most successful season to date under Jacobson. The team earned its highest ranking in school history at No. 6 midway through the season before finishing at No. 16. The team went to the school's first NCAA Sweet 16 and hosted NCAA Tournament first- and second-round matches for the first time in Husker history.

Jacobson guided Weatherholt to 208 career combined wins, the program's first player to reach 200 victories. In addition to their first-team All-America honors, Weatherholt and Veresova earned first-team All-Big Ten accolades, while fellow senior Stefanie Weinstein claimed second-team honors.

Nebraska's 24-6 final record in 2013 included a 10-1 Big Ten mark and the program's first Big Ten regular-season title in just its second season in the tradition-rich conference.

The Huskers' 2013 season followed on the heels of a 2012 campaign that featured a 24-5 overall record and a 9-2 Big Ten mark in Nebraska's first year in the conference. Weatherholt, who returned to the court after suffering a knee injury as a sophomore in 2011, again led the Huskers along with Veresova, Weinstein, Janine Weinreich and senior Madeleine Geibert. A three-time all-conference pick both athletically and academically, Geibert established NU record with 181 combined wins before Weatherholt broke the record the following season.

Weatherholt, who earned her first Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete-of-the-Year award, also claimed a Big Ten Sportsmanship award. She qualified for the 2012 NCAA Singles Championships for the first time in her career, but lost in the first round.

Jacobson earned Big Ten Co-Coach-of-the-Year honors after leading the Big Red to the second round of the NCAA Tournament

In Nebraska's final season in the Big 12 Conference in 2011, Jacobson led the Huskers to a 20-win campaign despite dealing with the loss of Weatherholt to a knee injury early in the fall.

NU finished fourth in a loaded Big 12, producing a 7-4 conference mark while qualifying for the their third straight NCAA Tournament. Geibert and Veresova both earned All-Big 12 honors.

Jacobson capped his association with the Big 12 Conference by leading seven Huskers to Big 12 individual titles and 26 first-team All-Big 12 awards.

In 2010, Nebraska posted the first 20-win campaign in school history, finishing with a 22-6 overall record that included a 9-2 Big 12 mark and a third-place conference finish. Jacobson was named Big 12 Coach of the Year for the second time, while leading the Huskers to their first-ever NCAA Tournament victory with a first-round win over Illinois.

Jacobson, who led Nebraska to its first NCAA Tournament with an 18-4 record and a 9-2 Big 12 mark in 2005, was also the 2005 Big 12 Coach of the Year. The 2006 team added a 17-10 overall record while featuring Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year Kim Hartmann on its way to a second straight NCAA Tournament bid.

Before becoming head coach in 1991, Jacobson helped the Nebraska men's team to an 84-86 record as an assistant from 1979 to 1989. He also spent 11 years as the assistant director of the Tennis and Life Camp in St. Peter, Minn. He has been an employee of the camp for 23 years.

In 1995, Jacobson was awarded the David Aasen Award by the staff of the Tennis and Life Camp. The award honors enthusiasm, energy, sense of humor, high standards of sportsmanship, a love of teaching and a genuine concern for others.

Originally from Blue Earth, Minn., Jacobson has been involved in many activities in Nebraska. In the past he has been an instructor for the Lincoln Racquet Club and coordinator for the Husker Netters Booster Club.

Jacobson's Coaching Philosophy

"By helping our student-athletes develop the values of dedication, cooperation, compassion and the ability to handle adversity with courage, we help them grow as both tennis players and as people. Through a belief in one another and a positive approach to competition, we can build meaningful relationships off the tennis court and continue a winning tradition on it."

My goal is to inspire and offer a positive approach in all areas that will help each athlete be the best they can be, and become a better person overall."

Shawn Eichorst was named the University of Nebraska's 14th Director of Athletics on Oct. 4, 2012, by Chancellor Harvey Perlman. Eichorst leads a tradition-rich athletic program of 24 varsity intercollegiate teams, 622 student-athletes and more than 300 full-time employees. Nebraska has a reputation as a world-class academic institution and athletics program. Eichorst's top priority is to provide all Husker student-athletes with world-class educational and athletic experiences and opportunities.

On Dec. 4, 2014, Eichorst announced that he had selected Mike Riley to be Nebraska's head football coach, and Riley was introduced the next day. One of the most respected coaches in the profession, Riley was a highly sought-after coach who had previously turned down interest from several top programs while at Oregon State. The Riley hire was nationally praised by prominent members of the media, the coaching fraternity, Riley's former players and current and former Nebraska student-athletes.

The overwhelmingly positive reaction to the high-profile hiring spoke not only to Riley's reputation, but also to Eichorst's ability to look beyond traditional measures by which coaches are judged and find an ideal cultural fit to lead the tradition-rich Nebraska football program. Eichorst secured one of the finest football minds in the world, a teacher of young men and a positive-thinking leader who will represent Nebraska Athletics in a first-class manner while reflecting the department's core values of Integrity, Trust, Respect, Teamwork and Loyalty.

Eichorst has made nearly 300 public appearances describing his primary mission to lead Nebraska Athletics in providing Husker student-athletes with the resources and support they need to be successful in academics, athletics and life. Eichorst's philosophy is to ensure that the health, safety and welfare of student-athletes is at the heart of every action taken and every decision made.

He serves on the Chancellor's Senior Administrative Team and regularly meets with campus administrators and deans. Eichorst's monthly radio show and Connecting on Campus column promote the university's academic and athletic successes, along with the academic and community achievements of Husker student-athletes.

Eichorst was the first Director of Athletics to visit the Big Ten-based Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) at its Champaign, Ill., headquarters. The CIC is a highly successful academic-based consortium of 15 schools, including all 14 in the Big Ten Conference. Nebraska is leading the Big Ten and the CIC in several areas, including the Digital Humanities and head injury research.

Under Eichorst's watch, Nebraska extended its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 314, including seven in 2013-14. NU also increased its nation-leading total to 17 NCAA Top Ten Award winners, as Mary Weatherholt (women's tennis) earned the honor in 2014. A total of 279 Huskers were honored at the Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet, with 123 earning their undergraduate degrees from August 2013 to May 2014. The Big Ten Conference honored 208 Husker student-athletes with Academic All-Big Ten awards in 2013-14, an increase of 20 from 2012-13.

In 2013-14, Nebraska became one of only two NCAA institutions, and the first Big Ten program in history to qualify for a bowl game, or NCAA postseason play in each of the following sports: football, volleyball and women's soccer in the fall; men's and women's basketball in the winter; and baseball and softball in the spring.

The Huskers performed well with 15 of Nebraska's 24 sports qualifying for bowl/NCAA postseason action. In the fall, the football team defeated Georgia in the Jan. 1 Gator Bowl; volleyball advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight; and soccer won the Big Ten regular-season title as well as the postseason tournament and defeated Southeastern Louisiana in Lincoln in the NCAA first round. The women's basketball team won the Big Ten Conference Tournament and won an NCAA Tournament game for the second-straight year. The men's basketball team made its first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 16 years, marking the third time that both the men's and women's programs qualified for the NCAA Basketball Tournament in the same year and the first since 1997-98. Softball tied for the Big Ten regular-season championship, then went on to win an NCAA Regional and advance to a Super Regional for the second straight year, taking eventual national runner-up Alabama to the wire. The baseball team played for the Big Ten title for the second straight year and defeated Binghamton (New York) in the NCAA Stillwater Regional.

Eight other Husker teams competed in NCAA postseason action in 2013-14. The women's bowling team was the NCAA runner-up; women's rifle finished fifth in the NCAA; women's gymnastics advanced to the NCAA Super Six; men's gymnastics placed eighth at the national meet; wrestling finished 11th nationally; men's track and field placed 17th indoors and 12th outdoors; and women's track and field placed 19th at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

NU coaches were honored for their efforts with Tim Miles (men's basketball) and John Walker (women's soccer) earning national coach-of-the-year honors. Four Husker coaches earned Big Ten Conference coach-of-the-year honors, including Miles, Walker, Rhonda Revelle (softball) and Connie Yori (women's basketball).

Nebraska's fan support is unparalleled in college athletics. In fact, in 2013-14 with approximately 19,000 new season ticket holders across three new and expanded facilities, top 15 national rankings for average attendance were reached across six sports, including football, volleyball, men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball. Thanks to our loyal fans, three sports have home sellout streaks in place, including football (340 consecutive), volleyball (217 straight) and men's basketball (16 prior to 2014-15 season).

Under Eichorst's direction, Nebraska continues to focus on improving the game-day atmosphere at every venue, including a $12.3 million upgrade of its wireless networks in and around Memorial Stadium completed in 2014. It is the largest wireless network system installation at a college stadium in history. The upgrade includes a new sound system, IPTV system installation and smartphone applications.

In the summer of 2013, Memorial Stadium expansion increased capacity while adding the innovative Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) inside East Stadium next to the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3). The men's and women's basketball teams became the primary tenants at Pinnacle Bank Arena, and the renovated Devaney Center became the home for Husker volleyball, wrestling and the men's and women's gymnastics programs.

Another major facility project is a world-class, $20.4 million Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex, located just north of the Devaney Center and Innovation Campus. When completed in 2015, the facilities will rank among the best in the Big Ten.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after serving as Director of Athletics at Miami in 2011 and 2012. During his tenure, he helped grow the academic reputation of an already sterling program with NCAA Top 10 recognition in Academic Progress Rates (APR) for five programs – football, baseball, men's diving, women's cross country and women's golf. Miami's Hurricane Club grew to more than 5,000 nationwide. A total of $19 million in student-athlete support was generated in 2011-12, and $14.2 million in capital gifts was raised to support the Center for Athletic Excellence.

Eichorst hired legendary men's basketball coach Jim Larrañaga, who led Miami to the NIT second round. The women's basketball program posted its highest national ranking in school history (No. 5) and advanced to the NCAA second round. The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight for the fourth straight season, and the baseball team made its 40th consecutive NCAA appearance. The women's soccer team posted the first NCAA Tournament win in history, and the volleyball team made its third straight NCAA Tournament trip.

Before heading to Miami, Eichorst was the Deputy Athletics Director at Wisconsin from 2009 to 2011. He was the Chief Operating Officer and oversaw the day-to-day operations (23 intercollegiate programs, 850 student-athletes, 320 full-time employees) under Director of Athletics and former Husker Barry Alvarez. Eichorst was involved in the design and planning of a new ice hockey and swimming facility, and the Student-Athlete Performance Center at Camp Randall Stadium.

At South Carolina, Eichorst oversaw daily operations of the athletics department and supervised Lou Holtz's and Steve Spurrier's football programs and Ray Tanner's baseball program. The football team was bowl-eligible each season, and the baseball team competed in the 2004 College World Series. Additionally, he coordinated and supervised multi-million dollar facility projects, including a football training facility.

From 1999 to 2003, Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at Wisconsin-Whitewater, which produced four top 10 percent finishes in the NACDA Directors Cup, one NCAA team title, two NCAA runner-up finishes and five individual national champions. The program also featured 11 CoSIDA Academic All-America selections, seven NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners and 74 All-Americans.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 football team captain for Wisconsin-Whitewater. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette in 1995. He practiced law in Milwaukee until 1999. He is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee and the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He previously served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette Law School, where he taught classes in sports law. He serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors. In 2006, Marquette awarded Eichorst the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year award. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

A native of Miesbach, Germany, Izabella Zgierska (pronounced zuh-gear-skuh) has blossomed as a player during her four years at Nebraska and is expected to play a major role in NU's singles and doubles lineups as the lone senior on the roster.

2013-14: JUNIOR

Zgierska was the only junior on the Husker roster playing from the No. 2 singles spot and filling the No. 2 and 3 doubles spots throughout 2014. Zgierska finished with a 13-20 overall singles record and a 9-15 spring mark. She went 2-9 in the Big Ten. Zgierska partnered with Maike Zeppernick during the spring finishing with an 11-16 overall and an 8-10 spring mark, going 2-6 in Big Ten play.

Off the court, Zgierska helped the Huskers earn their fourth straight Herman Award for highest team GPA among all Nebraska women's sports. 2012-13: SOPHOMORE

Zgierska played at No. 5 and 6 singles and No. 3 doubles.

Zgierska tallied an 11-15 singles record, including a 9-11 mark in the spring and 4-3 in Big Ten play. Zgierska battled an injury early in the spring that forced her to retire from a match on Jan. 22 against Amanda Noonan of Creighton.

Zgierska tallied a 10-10 doubles record, including a 9-9 spring mark and a 2-4 record in the Big Ten. Her primary partner was Maggy Lehmicke. Zgierska also paired with Maike Zeppernick for a match against Illinois State on Feb. 15.

Zgierska and Lehmicke had a hot streak of six matches from Feb. 10 to March 8.

2011-12: FRESHMAN

Zgierska solidified the Huskers' doubles lineup during the Big Ten season. She teamed with fellow German Janine Weinreich to post a 7-3 record at the No. 3 doubles spot in 11 Big Ten matches. Zgierska and Weinreich combined to go 7-3 over NU's final 11 matches of the season (match vs. Purdue at Big Ten Tournament not completed), including an 8-1 win over North Texas in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. The duo also closed the regular season with three straight Big Ten wins against Michigan State, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Their only Big Ten losses came to Michigan and Purdue.

Overall, Zgierska posted a 14-3 doubles record, including a 3-0 mark with Mary Weatherholt and a 4-0 record with Maike Zeppernick at the No. 4 spot. Zgierska also produced a 7-5 record in singles competition as a freshman, including a 2-0 mark in Big Ten play. The Nebraska women's tennis team battled through a rebuilding year in 2013-14, finishing with an 8-17 overall record. The Huskers began the process of replacing the best senior class in school history, including All-Americans Mary Weatherholt and Patricia Veresova.

The 2013-14 Huskers featured just four returning players from the 2012-13 team that won the Big Ten title and advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16. Among those four, Maike Zeppernick was the lone senior on Coach Scott Jacobson's young Husker squad.

The Huskers opened the spring season ranked No. 25 nationally by the ITA and swept Creighton 7-0 in their opener at the Nebraska Tennis Center on Jan. 21. The Big Red then played host to the prestigious ITA Kick-Off Classic for the second straight season. The Huskers dropped their tournament opener to No. 19 Georgia Tech on Jan. 25, before falling to No. 18 Texas Tech the following day at the Nebraska Tennis Center.

Nebraska suffered a third setback in a narrow 4-3 loss to Kansas on Jan. 31, before bouncing back with a season-best four-match winning streak from Feb. 14 to Feb. 22. The Huskers opened the winning streak with a 5-2 win over Eastern Michigan on Valentine's Day, before adding another 5-2 win over Illinois State on Feb. 16. NU made it three straight with another 5-2 victory over Air Force on Feb. 22, before adding a 4-1 win the same day against Northern Iowa.

Drake snapped Nebraska's four-match winning streak with a 5-2 win on Feb. 28, but the Huskers rebounded with a three-match winning streak with wins over Colorado State (7-0), Wyoming (5-2) and Miami (Ohio) to close their 12-match season-opening home stand at the Nebraska Tennis Center with an 8-4 record.

After the 4-3 win over Miami (Ohio), the Huskers' opened a challenging Big Ten Conference season with a home match outdoors against No. 70 Iowa on March 14. The Hawkeyes escaped from Lincoln with a 6-1 win, before Nebraska closed the non-conference portion of its schedule outside two days later with a 4-1 setback to No. 46 Wichita State at the NU Varsity Courts.

After playing their first 14 matches of the season at home in Lincoln, the Huskers hit the road for the first time to take on Wisconsin. The Big Red battled the Badgers shot for shot, but came home with a 4-3 loss on March 21.

Nebraska then opened a three-match Big Ten home stand with a 4-2 setback to Minnesota at the Lincoln Racquet Club on March 23. NU suffered another narrow 4-3 defeat at the hands of Michigan State at the Nebraska Tennis Center on March 28, before ending the stand with a 7-0 loss to No. 15 Michigan on March 30.

The Big Red's setback to the Wolverines opened a stretch of five consecutive matches against top-45 foes, including four straight on the road for the Huskers. In fact, Nebraska played seven of its final eight matches on the season against top-45 teams.

The road swing began with a loss at No. 43

Zeppernick, Zgierska, Lehmicke Lead New Look Nebraska Team

Nebraska closed the regular season with a 4-0 loss to No. 34 Ohio State on Senior Day. The Big Red honored their lone senior, Maike Zeppernick, who closed her final season as a Husker with a 19-11 singles mark that included a 6-4 record in the powerful Big Ten. She closed her collegiate career with 84 combined victories, including 54 in singles action.

Zeppernick was also a star in the classroom for the Huskers, earning a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar Award in 2014, while also claiming academic All-Big Ten honors for the third consecutive season.

Although the Huskers' season came to an end with a loss to No. 37 Illinois in the first round of the Big Ten Tournament at Evanston, Ill., on April 24, Nebraska continued its remarkable success in the classroom. The Huskers captured the Herman Team GPA Award for the fourth consecutive season, which honors the Nebraska women's team across all varsity sports that produces the top grade-point average in the classroom.

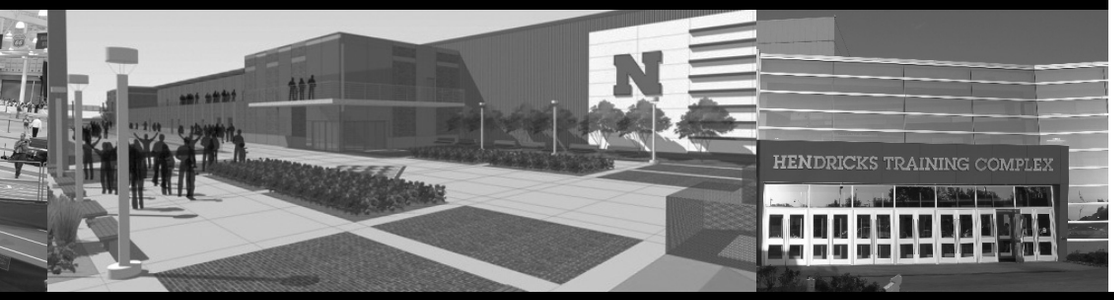
THIS IS NEBRASKA WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Nebraska women's tennis program has continued to rise in national prominence over the past decade, and is poised to improve its position as a national contender with the addition of the Nebraska Tennis Complex in 2015. The Huskers, who have earned six NCAA Tournament appearances in the past nine seasons under Coach Scott Jacobson, are expected to move into their new home on Nebraska's Innovation Campus later this spring. The new facility promises to provide the Huskers with some of the top training and competitive environments in the nation.

While the Huskers will have a chance to showcase a new home in 2015, Nebraska's success has always been more about great players and great people.

Mary Weatherholt earned All-America honors in both singles and doubles, finishing her career as the NCAA singles runner-up in 2013. She also advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight in doubles with fellow All-American Patricia Veresova. Weatherholt's success transcended the tennis court. She captured one of the NCAA's most prestigious all-around honors by winning an NCAA Top Ten Award. She was also Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year in 2013. As a group, the women's tennis team has posted the best combined grade-point average of any Husker team each of the last four years.

CHAMPIONSHIP FACILITIES



Nebraska's top facilities are not limited to the women's tennis program. Nearly every Husker sport enjoys a venue that ranks among the nation's best.

In 2013, approval was given to build a new indoor/outdoor tennis facility on the University of Nebraska campus to benefit the Husker men's and women's tennis programs. The facility, which is being built in conjunction with a new soccer stadium, is expected to open in late-spring of 2015.

In 2013-14, the Nebraska men's and women's basketball team moved into the new Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln. The 15,000-seat arena is the home of both teams while also attracting the nation's top entertainers to Lincoln throughout the year. The nationally prominent Nebraska volleyball team moved into the Devaney Center in 2013, after the building received a $20 million renovation.

Middle: Nebraska's teams compete in some of the nation's finest facilities in front of large crowds. The Huskers are also committed to improving their facilities on an annual basis, including the Hendricks Training Complex, which opened in the fall of 2011, and Pinnacle Bank Arena (top right), which opened in 2013-14 for Nebraska men's and women's basketball. Memorial Stadium expanded by more than 5,000 seats for 2013, while adding an innovative academic/athletic research wing in the East Stadium.

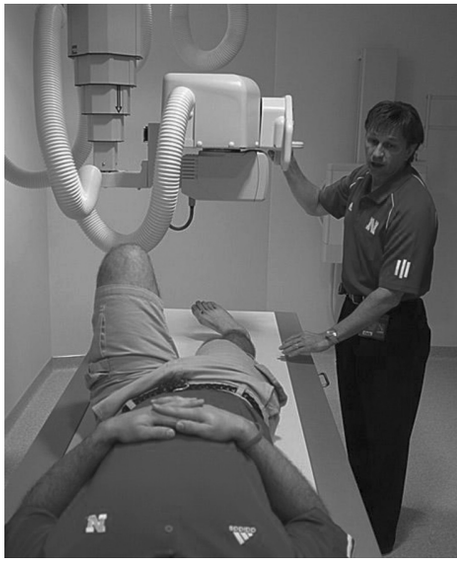
The main entrance to the Osborne Athletic Complex and Traditions Lobby features an impressive waterfall and a wall that honors those who contributed to the massive project, as well as memorabilia and trophies from all of Nebraska's bowl games. The soccer/tennis complex entrance will feature an archway walk-in (right).

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to more than 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber, the 2014-15 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, 13 athletic trainers and six graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

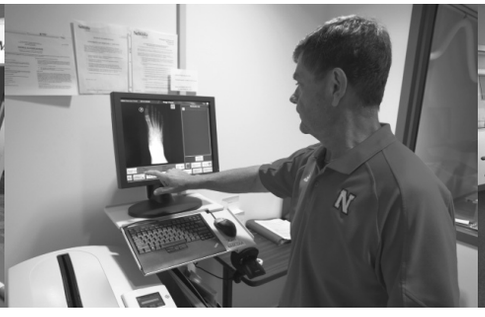


Above: Associate Athletic Director and Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers coordinates the care of Husker student-athletes by using some of the best on-site technology in collegiate athletics.

The Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool, which allows student-athletes across all of Nebraska's sports to work out simultaneously. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment, while hot and cold plunge tanks are also available to the Huskers.

The medical facilities at Nebraska have long been among the nation's best, and NU's athletic medicine center within the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex will keep the Huskers on the front line of technology for decades to come. In addition to Nebraska's North Stadium facility, the Bob Devaney Sports Center, Haymarket Park and Pinnacle Bank Arena all feature athletic medicine areas. The Devaney Center's Athletic Medicine facility underwent an extensive expansion as part of the Hendricks Training Complex addition in 2011.

Using the best on-site medical equipment and resources in college athletics, the Nebraska athletic medicine staff provides Husker student-athletes with highly skilled medical care throughout the year.



NUTRITION

Nebraska's Sports Nutritionists Lindsey Remmers and Ryan Reist work with all 24 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as increasing lean body mass, losing body fat, staying hydrated, nutritional strategies for competition, maximizing recovery following workouts and supplement use. Athletes are given individualized nutrition plans that can be applied in Nebraska's Performance Buffet at the Lewis Training Table, which was remodeled and expanded in the 2010 season. In addition to utilizing the Lewis Training Table each day for lunch and dinner, student-athletes also have access to fueling stations near strength and conditioning areas to provide fluids and nutritional foods before and after workouts to maximize performance and recovery.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

University of Nebraska student-athletes produced another outstanding year in competition, in the classroom and in the community, continuing NU's tradition of success in 2013-14. The Huskers increased their nation-leading total of all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 314 with a Big Ten-best seven academic All-Americans across all sports, while also claiming a Big Ten-leading five NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships in 2013-14.

Nebraska's seven CoSIDA Academic All-Americans ranked among the highest totals in the nation across all divisions. The Huskers maintained their lead of 76 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans over national No. 2 Notre Dame. The only school in the nation with 300 academic All-Americans, Nebraska is one of just three schools across all divisions with 200 or more, joining Notre Dame and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). NU leads the nation in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans since 2000 with 124, extending its nation-leading streak to 43 consecutive years with at least one academic All-American.

The Huskers also increased their nation-leading total of NCAA Top Ten Award winners to 17, as former women's tennis All-American Mary Weatherholt was honored during the 2013-14 academic year. Nebraska also ranks among the nation's best in the total of NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners, including five in 2013-14. Spencer Long (Football), Eric Schryver (Men's Gymnastics), Emily Wong (Women's Gymnastics), Sunny Russell (Rifle) and Anne Martin (Track & Field) all claimed the prestigious national awards.

A total of 675 awards were issued for the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Fall (354) and Spring (321) Honor Roll, recognizing Husker student-athletes who produced a 3.0 GPA or better during a semester. Among that group, Huskers produced 87 perfect 4.0 GPA semesters. A total of 62 Nebraska student-athletes also were honored as Big Ten Distinguished Scholars for posting 3.7 grade-point averages or better and lettering in their respective sports in 2013-14.

Nebraska's CoSIDA Academic All-America success continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 member institutions. The Husker football team leads all individual sport programs in the nation with 107 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-America awards, including 2013 first-team honoree Spencer Long and second-team selections Jake Long and C.J. Zimmerer. Spencer Long added a prestigious Nationall Football Foundation Postgraduate Scholarship worth $18,000, along with prestigious NCAA Postgraduate ($7,500) and Big Ten Wayne Duke Postgraduate ($10,000) scholarships before being chosen in the third round of the 2014 NFL Draft. THE NEBRASKA ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 75 tutors addressing all subject areas.

Academic Counseling

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

Study Hall

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Each student-athlete is required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. In addition, weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall may also be determined by the academic counselor.

Mentoring

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Student-Athlete Orientation

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the art computer lab and technology center with 58 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

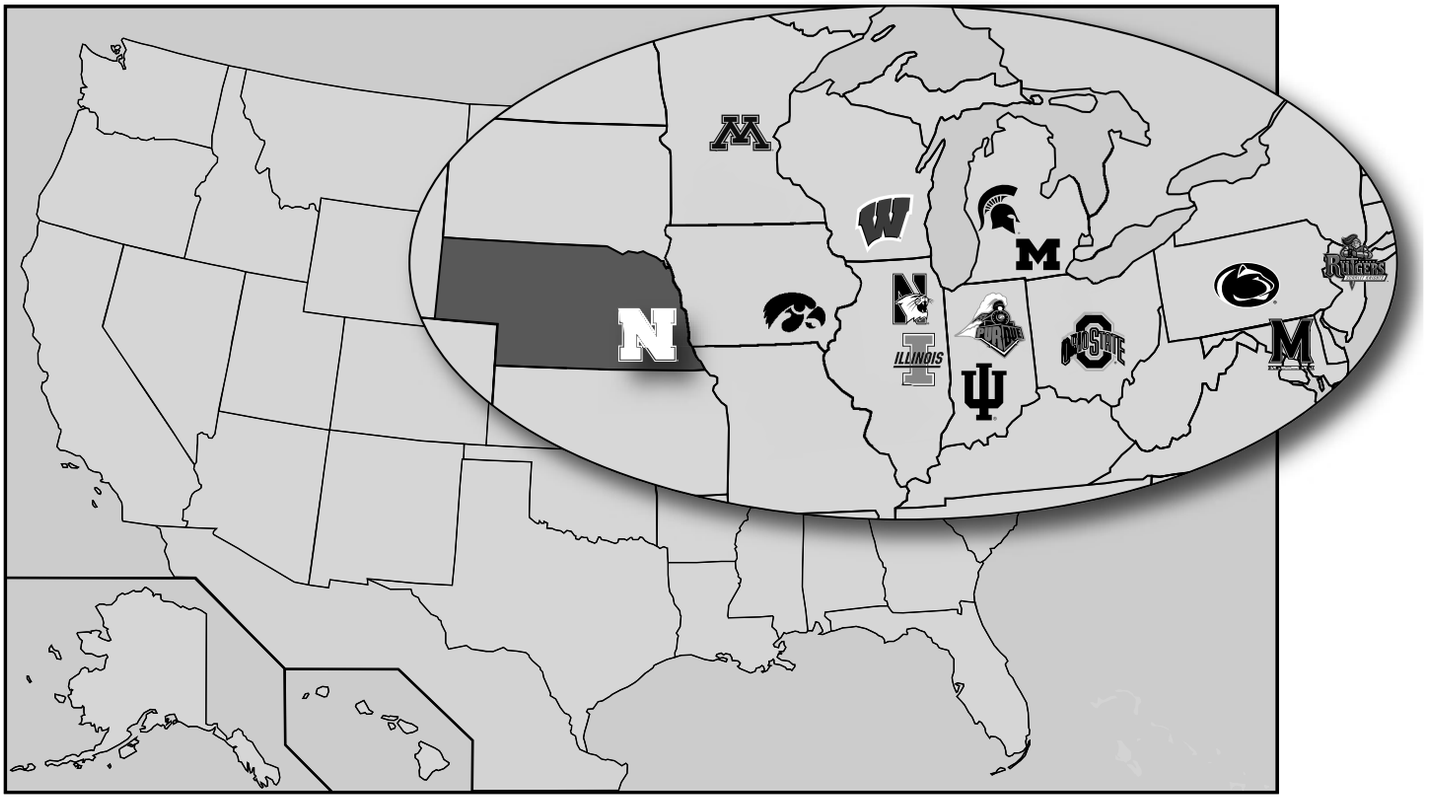
BIG TEN CONTINUES TO EXPAND NATIONAL REACH



On July 1, 2011, the University of Nebraska became an official member of the Big Ten Conference, increasing the Big Ten's membership to 12 institutions for the first time in conference history. The addition of Nebraska marked the Big Ten's first expansion since Penn State joined the conference in June of 1990. The nation's oldest conference continued to grow with the addition of Maryland and Rutgers in the summer of 2014. The Big Ten Conference is a union of 14 world-class academic institutions – who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

Big Ten Conference Highlights

- Big Ten universities provide approximately $200 million in direct financial aid to nearly 9,500 student-athletes on 350 teams across 42 sports.
- The Big Ten sponsors 28 official conference sports, 14 for men 14 for women, including the debut of lacrosse this academic year.
- Over the past 10 years, current Big Ten institutions have won national championships in 18 sports.

- Nearly 1,400 Big Ten student-athletes and coaches have participated in the Olympics, winning at least 480 medals, including nearly 250 gold.
- Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with nearly 10 million patrons attending conference home contests for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball during 2013-14. During 2013-14, the Big Ten led the nation in men's basketball, women's volleyball, hockey and wrestling attendance, while ranking second nationally in football and women's basketball attendance.
- The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 5.7 million living alumni and 520,000 students.

The Big Ten Network brings unprecedented coverage to women's athletics across the conference, including live pre- and post-game coverage at the Big Ten Women's Basketball Tournament. The Chicago-based network is also bringing increased national exposure to Nebraska student-athletes across all sports.

Big Ten Network

Headquartered in Chicago, the Big Ten Network is the first internationally distributed television network dedicated to covering one of America's premier collegiate conferences.

With more than 400 live sports events, and virtually all of them in high definition, the Big Ten Network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country. The network is on the air 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The network is available to an estimated 60 million households. The network is carried by all major cable, satellite and telecommunications providers and BTN2Go is also available on smartphones, tables and the internet.

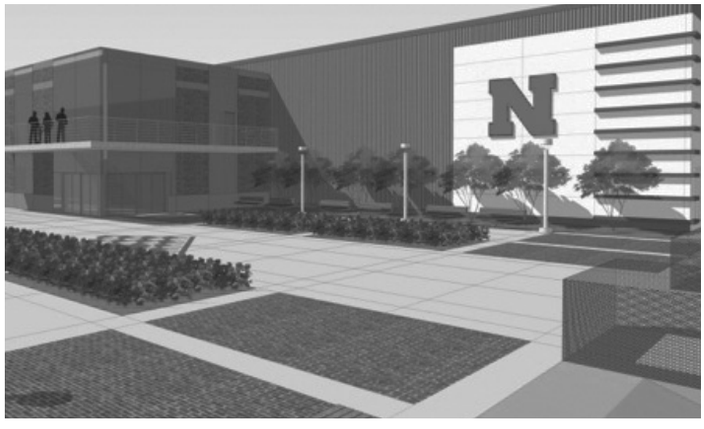
- In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network devoted to the athletic and academic programs of a single conference. The Big Ten Network launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 30 million homes in its first 30 days.
- Since the current media agreements began in 2007-08, every home football and men's basketball game has been produced while women's basketball has received more coverage than any other conference.
- The Big Ten's new media agreements have resulted in the broadcast of nearly 1,200 events nationally and regionally on an annual basis, compared to 300 events in the final year of the previous agreements.



The new Nebraska Tennis Complex is set for completion late-spring of 2015.

"The Big Ten is a prominent conference and well respected academically. Nebraska will represent the conference very well."

Nebraska Coach Scott Jacobson

THIS IS NEBRASKA

Nebraska's women's tennis program has established itself as a national contender. In 2013, the Huskers advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament for the first time. It was Nebraska's sixth NCAA appearance in an eight-year span.

Head Coach Scott Jacobson, who is in his 23rd season, is the winningest coach in Nebraska tennis history. He helped 2013 All-American Mary Weatherholt to a second-place finish at the 2013 NCAA Singles Championship, while adding an Elite Eight finish alongside fellow All-American Patricia Veresova in doubles. Weatherholt also earned Nebraska's nation-leading 17th NCAA Top Ten Award and was Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year.

Left: Mary Weatherholt set the all-time record for career wins at 208, the first and only women's player in Nebraska history to surpass the 200-win mark. Weatherholt was the 2013 NCAA Singles runner-up, 2013 NCAA/ITA All-American in both singles and doubles, Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete-of-the-year in both 2012 and 2013 and earned the NCAA Top Ten Award for her performance on the court, in the classroom and community.
